SHOPMEN'S UNIONS OUTLAWED BY RAIL BOARD

COAL STRIKE MEETING DEADLOCKED

OFFICIALS OF RAILROADS DON OVERALLS HERE

Men Higher Up Making Necessary Repairs to Keep the Trains Running During the Strike

DINER AND TOURIST SLEEPER PARKED IN MILWAUKEE YARDS

Armed Guards Placed Around the Shops in Both of the Local Yards

EVERYTHING remained quiet around the shops of the Burlington and Milwaukee railroads Monday morning, with the shopmen still out on strike. The strike is being conducted in an orderly manner, and all strikers have received instructions from their union officers that no boisterousness or rowdyism of any sort will be tolerated.

Pickets are stationed near the entrances of both shops, but so far their presence has been unnecessary, and they have had nothing to do. The men are standing four hour watches all during the day and night. The shopcrafts were still out 100 per cent Monday noon.

Extra Cars Here

Sometime early Sunday morning a Pullman dining car and tourist sleeper were parked on the repair track of the Milwaukee road, at the foot of Car street.

Sunday was just as quiet in the vicinity of the Milwaukee roundhouse as another Sunday, with the roundhouse quieter than ever. Pickets idled on street corners with nothing to do but look, and even that got tiresome after awhile.

Armed guards have been placed around the railroad property centering at the Mill street crossing, especially at the bridges over Black river, East channel and the Mississippi river.

Strike Called Perfect

The strike was reported by a union officer from the Burlington shops to be "a thousand per cent perfect" Sunday. Every man affected by the strike order left the job, and none had returned to work.

The Burlington and Milwaukee strikers are maintaining separate headquarters, the former at Union hall on Rose street, the latter at Fjelstad's hall on Caledonia street.

White collars and overalls were said to be the uniform of the day Saturday and Sunday as the officials of the roads got out to do the work of the men on strike necessary to keep the trains running. All of the other unions have had orders to keep "hands off" any job except their own.

BELIEVE THAT ONLY A PROPOSAL BY U. S. CAN SAVE SITUATION

Each Side Refuses to Agree to the Other's Plan for Wage Negotiation

GOVERNMENT EXPECTED TO INTERVENE IN DEADLOCK

Operators to Open on Nonunion Basis if Conference Fails

WASHINGTON.—By the Associated Press.—Deadlocked over a basis of negotiating a settlement of the bituminous coal strike, the conference of operators and United Mine Workers, officials accepted the suggestion of government representatives and adjourned until next Monday.

When adjournment was taken after two joint sessions and an intermediate separate session of operators and miners, Secretary of Labor Davis, one of the government representatives, said that no agreement had been reached, no committee to continue the discussions in the meantime appointed and no specific program for the future discussed although many different plans had been proposed.

WASHINGTON.—By The Associated Press.—Lines of difference were drawn more tightly than ever Monday when representatives of bituminous coal operators and officials of the striking coal miners' union went into their third joint conference in company with Secretaries Hoover and Davis. Prior to the meeting it was evident that the operators intended to force some sort of a conclusion without yielding to their refusal to meet the union for the purpose of making up a national or semi-national wage scale. From the views of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers it was evident that the miners consider it necessary to prolong the strike rather than agree to negotiate for district wage scales with the operators.

To Operate Non-union Mines

At a lengthy meeting by themselves the bituminous operators' representatives prepared a resolution incorporating their view, and though its detail was held confidential it was understood that if the joint conference broke up the operators had been determined to open a large number of union mines in former union territory on a nonunion basis Wednesday.

The old wage scale calls for a base wage of $7.50 per day under ground while the mines that will open are expected to offer the miners the 1917 scale, which has a base of about $5 a day underground.

U. S. to Intervene?

Secretary of Labor Davis appeared still hopeful before the meeting and was again the chief source of the impression that the administration would intervene further before letting the gathering fail of accomplishing a strike settlement. It is believed that only a proposal by the administration offers any prospect for a break in the deadlock faced by bituminous coal mine operators and officials of the miners' union. Following the formal votes at their second meeting, by which each side rejected the proposal of the other as to the basis for negotiation of the new wage scales, there had been no indication Monday what suggestions the government might offer to progress negotiations.

FINE WEATHER IS PROMISED LA CROSSE FOR FOURTH OF JULY

Fair, with rising temperature, is the weather forecast for Tuesday, the Fourth of July.

"You might tell the people of La Crosse that the Glorious Fourth will have glorious weather," said A. D. Sanial, of the weather bureau, as he dropped into The Tribune office on his morning round, delivering weather reports, "and Mr. Thompson wants everybody to enjoy the fine weather. It won't be too hot; neither will it be too cool. It ought to be a swell day."

And for "them gladsome tidings" there was much joy thereat, as plans for the packing of many and sundry lunchbaskets that are doomed to be devastated on the morrow were resumed. So by all the signs of the zodiac, it ought to be a large day Tuesday.

NO QUORUM IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The senate was unable to hold a quorum Monday and was forced to recess until Wednesday after it had approved a tariff rate of five cents a pound on unshelled almonds. A vote on the committee rate of 15 cents a pound on shelled almonds went over.

FREE STATE TROOPS LAUNCH ATTACK ON LAST STRONGHOLD OF INSURGENTS IN DUBLIN

Outposts of Irish Irregulars Cleaned Up Sunday and Enemy is Now Confined to Narrow Area in Sackville Street; De Valera With Beleaguered Garrison in Hotel

DUBLIN.—By the Associated Press.—The final assault on the positions held by the republicans in Sackville street was begun at nine o'clock Monday morning and was still continuing at eleven o'clock.

The other areas held by the insurgents in various parts of this city were occupied by the Free Staters during the night.

Heavy fighting is going on in Sackville street, which is swept by machine gun fire. The national army forces are operating from O'Connel bridge to the Parnell monument. The return fire of the insurgents is feeble.

The machine gunners are maintaining a devastating fire against the front of the buildings, particularly pressing the attack on Hammam's hotel, where Eamon De Valera is believed to be holding out following his flight from the Gresham hotel.

Crowd Watches Attack

Despite the great danger from stray bullets a large crowd is watching the fight from a distance.

It is generally believed the task of clearing the republicans out of the Sackville street position will prove extremely difficult and involve heavy property damage, particularly in view of the report that they are commanded by such experienced fighters and "die hards" as Eamon De Valera, Cathal Brugha (Charles Burgess), Austin Stack and Oscar Traynor.

Details of the operations of the national corps are regarded as pointing to impaired morale on the part of the irregulars and to the rapid crumbling of their defenses when seriously attacked.

Clean Up Outposts

The tactics of the provisional government's leaders in first cleaning out the insurgents' outposts resulted in confining the irregulars to positions in the narrow area around Sackville street.

The rapidity with which the Free Staters dislodged the insurgents caused surprise.

Sunday's operations in most cases were carried out by the use of armored cars and intense machine gun fire. Apparently only in one case was artillery brought into action and that was the attack on Moran's hotel in Talbot street.

Attack in Armored Cars

The attack on the stronghold in Harcourt terrace was particularly dashing. The Free Staters drove up suddenly in armored cars and opened a fierce fire on the republicans. The return volley was scattering, and the national troops promptly stormed the place, capturing in a single rush the whole party of defenders, numbering thirty.

The capture of the Swan hotel in York street was a more difficult operation. In this engagement the republicans displayed considerable resource, all managing to escape except three, who were wounded. The attack was made by an armored car and a small force of Free Staters quartered in an undertaker's establishment nearby.

The fight lasted several hours.

Horseshoe for Luck

The republicans who were strongly entrenched had hung a horseshoe outside a window. They declared their luck would last as long as the horseshoe remained. Most of the defenders were mere boys and their pluck and dare devilry won warm admiration from their imperilled noncombatant neighbors as well as from the attackers.

The casualties in Sunday's fighting in Dublin were eleven killed and sixteen wounded.

The Stephen's Green club, which had been held by the irregulars since Friday, was captured by national army forces today. The irregulars had evacuated the position.

End Expected Soon

During the night the stronghold of the irregulars in the Sackville district area was heavily bombarded and before Monday's attack began the general belief was that the hostilities will draw rapidly towards a conclusion.

Arthur Griffith, replying to a resolution of the Irish Women's International league urging the immediate summoning of the Irish parliament, said:

"Before July 1, the date fixed for the meeting, the authority of the government and its sovereignty were challenged by an irresponsible group which in defiance of the people's will as expressly declared, attempted by the seizure of persons and property and the menace of arms to arrogate to itself authority over our lives and the liberties of the property of the citizens by whom it had been repudiated.

"No government could submit to such a challenge without being guilty

STRIKE VOTE IS ORDERED BY LAKE SEAMEN'S UNION

Sailors Protest Against Continued Wage Cuts and Long Hours of Work

OVER ELEVEN THOUSAND MEN AFFECTED BY THE ORDER

Leaders Authorized in Ballot to Call Strike at Any Time

CHICAGO, Ill.—By the Associated Press.—Sailors, cooks and stewards and firemen, oilers and water tenders on all boats of the Lake Carriers' association, operating on the Great Lakes, Monday began taking a strike vote.

The vote will be counted July 24 at the offices of the Sailors' Union of the Great Lakes here; and the offices of the Marine Cooks and Stewards and Marine Firemen, and the oilers and water-tenders' unions at Buffalo.

Four hundred and fifty bulk cargo carriers engaged in the iron ore, grain and coal trades and three passenger boats, the Tionesta, Octora and Juniata of Buffalo, are affected by the strike vote.

About 11,250 members of the three unions are involved. They demand reduction in hours from 12 to 8 a day and an increase in pay.

The strike resolution of the Sailors' union declares that modern bulk freighters on the lakes can bring down five times as much ore in a season as boats of a few years ago while modern unloading machinery enables them to turn around in less time than ships one fifth their size formerly did. In spite of this great saving, the resolution says, "the lake carriers' association still requires the sailors on their ships to work 12 hours a day seven days a week, which was the work-day in effect for sailors when Christopher Columbus discovered America."

The strike ballot authorizes the union officers to call a walkout at such time during the 1922 season as they deem advisable.

K. B. Nolan, general secretary of the sailors' union, has notified William Livingstone, president of the Lake Carriers' association at Detroit, that the union is ready to meet with a committee from the ship owners to try and reach an agreement without tying up the ships.

In a letter to Mr. Livingstone he points out that wages had been cut three times since May, 1921, reducing them from $130 a month to $80 a month. Based on the purchasing power of their money the sailors should receive $111.90 a month now to equal the wage paid in 1907, the strike ballot declares.

YOUNG STUNT FLYER KILLED IN MID-AIR AT CHICAGO SUNDAY

Louis James Meets Death in Attempting to Change from Plane to Plane

BODY IS CUT TO PIECES BY WHIRLING PROPELLER BLADES

Huge Crowd Gathered for Air Circus Look on Horror Stricken

CHICAGO, Ill.—Louis James, youthful stunt flyer, was killed Sunday while attempting to change from plane to plane a thousand feet up. His body was cut to pieces by the propeller of the airplane, parts falling into the crowd below. The propellor was destroyed and one wing of the plane was badly damaged. Two planes were performing the feat. The first went into a nose spin after the accident to James and hit the second ship, destroying its propeller, too.

Both airplanes were guided skillfully down, however, and neither was damaged further in landing.

Protege of Ruth Law

James was a pupil and protege of Ruth Law, it was said, at the field. He had been doing aerial acrobatics two years.

James' performance was to have been given as the climax of the aerial celebration given by the Homewood American Legion post. A great throng had gathered from Homewood and surrounding communities. A dozen planes were whirring through the air, and nose dives, tail spins, barrel rolls, Immelman turns, and all the other hair raisers of the aerial art held the spectators.

From One to the Other

Then came the feature of the day. James was to perform the stunt made famous by Lieut. Omer C. Locklear—that of climbing from one "ship" to another in midair.

The planes were under the guidance of Pilot James Curran, chief instructor of the Ralph C. Diggins flying school at the Aero club of Illinois field, and Pilot William Thompson of Milwaukee.

James climbed to the top wing of one plane, and, lying flat upon its surface, grasped two struts and gave the signal to go ahead. The two ships took off and slowly circled upward to 800 feet.

Two Efforts Fail

There they jockeyed back and forth. Twice the pilot in the upper plane brought the dangling ladder to within a few inches of James' outstretched hands, not quite close enough.

Again the ships roared over the field, while thousands watched below. The upper plane came lower this time, so near the other that spectators gasped. The ladder, plainly visible, moved nearer and nearer to the man now standing upright on the wing.

He grasped it. He was seen a second later hanging free. And then—

Spectators gave different stories. Most said that the planes seemed to sheer together for a moment. James and the ladder were thrown squarely into the propeller of the lower ship, a heavy bar of wood revolving at 1,500 revolutions to the minute.

Drops Into Crowd

The body of the man was seen to crumple. A moment later, mangled and bleeding, his hands still clutching a bit of the ladder bar, he dropped into the crowd far below.

Women screamed and fainted. The crowd rushed madly to the scene of the accident. They spread out over the field, endangering their lives as the two planes, now in a mad descent, sought to make a landing.

Died in Air

James was dead long before his body hit the ground. Physicians in the crowd sought to give him aid to no avail. The two pilots, nerve shaken, both made rough but successful landings.

The body of the dead pilot was taken to a morgue, while the other cars bore hysterical and fainting women to the nearest homes for sedatives.

Officials of the Legion cleared the field shortly after the accident.

NO PAPER TUESDAY

In order that employes of the paper may enjoy the holiday and celebrate the anniversary of Independence Day, there will be no issue of the Tribune and Leader-Press on July Fourth.

ORDER DIRECTS FORMATION OF NEW ORGANIZATIONS TO REPRESENT SHOP EMPLOYES

Ruling Will Also Apply to Other Unions Going on Strike, Says Announcement; Strike Interest Centers in Expected Action of Maintenance of Way Men

CHICAGO, Ill.—By the Associated Press.—The six railway shopcrafts unions which went on strike Saturday were outlawed by the United States railroad labor board Monday.

In a formal resolution the board declared that the unions by their action, forfeited all rights before the board as railway employes, and that new organizations of shopmen taking the striking men's jobs should be formed to represent the shop employes in disputes before the board.

The board requested employes remaining in the service and the carriers to take steps immediately to form a new organization for the purpose of representing the shopmen before the board. The resolution formally declared that the striking shopworkers are no longer employes of any railroad and therefore without the jurisdiction of the board or subject to the application of the transportation act. Although applying directly to the shopmen at this time the board also said that if the maintenance of way men, signalmen, stationary firemen and oilers and clerks joined the walkout, they would be relegated to the same position as the shopmen.

The board's pronunciamento formally seconded the statement of Chairman Ben W. Hooper Saturday that men remaining on the job should not be called "scabs" or be considered as "strike breakers." The resolution said such men were "within their rights" and "have the moral as well as the legal right to engage in such service of the American public to avoid interruption of indispensable railway transportation." Such men are entitled, the resolution said, "to the protection of every department and branch of the government, state and national."

Look to Track Men

CHICAGO, Ill.—By the Associated Press. — Railway strike interest, which centered over the week end on the shopmen's walkout Saturday, today turned to developments dependent upon the canvass at Detroit of the strike vote of 400,000 maintenance of way employes, and action by their union officials. A potential railroad crisis hinged on the course taken by the maintenance men.

A strike by maintenance employes would more than double the effectiveness of the suspension.

Would Mean Million Out

Should the clerks, freight handlers and signalmen join the walkout, the total number of railway employes called off their jobs would aggregate approximately 1,200,000.

E. F. Grable, president of the maintenance employes, kept his promise to hold strike orders in abeyance until today at least, although the vote of his union was reported to be overwhelmingly in favor of a strike.

Claims of the completeness and effectiveness of the shopmen's strike differed, according to sources. Union officials asserted that the walkout was virtually 100 per cent, and would seriously hamper railroad operations. Railway executives on the other hand tentatively fixed 90 per cent as the maximum number of the strikers among the 401,000 men in the shopcrafts.

Start Open Shop

In some rail centers plans were in preparation for replacing strikers with workers under open shop arrangements.

The third day of the shopmen's strike arrived with few reports of disorders.

The New York Central today advertised in newspapers for men to replace shopmen who went on the strike Saturday.

332,038 Employed March 15

CHICAGO, Ill.—Official figures of the interstate commerce commission on March 15, 1922, showed that the number of railroad shopmen then employed on all railroads in the country was 332,038, and it was said Monday in railroad circles that the number probably had decreased rather than increased since that time, due to lessened traffic following the coal strike on April 1. The number of shopmen was officially reported as follows:

Blacksmiths, 8,676; Boilermakers, 18,216; Carmen, Class A, 21,360; Carmen, Class B, 4,070; Carmen, Class C, 84,383; Carmen, Class D, 2,111; Electrical workers, Class A, 5,504; Electrical workers, Class B, 2,229; Electrical workers, Class C, 236; Machinists, 54,484; Molders, 1,190; Sheet metal workers, 10,266; Helpers, 97,929; Helpers apprentices, 5,546; regular apprentices, 15,838; Total, 332,038.

Firemen May Strike

CHICAGO, Ill.—By the Associated Press.—Timothy Healy, president of the stationary firemen and oilers, Monday dispatched telegrams to 150 of his local unions, telling them the men have "a perfect right to strike now" if they so desire. The messages were sent in answer to inquiries asking authority to join the striking railway shopmen and reports to Mr. Healy today said that about half of the firemen and oilers had

BULLETINS FROM THE STRIKE FRONT

Strike Breakers Stoned

PERRY, Iowa—Twenty laborers brought here from Chicago presumably to work in the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul local shops were stoned and chased out of town here Saturday night by a band of striking sympathizers.

The yards leading to the shops are picketed Monday by 250 striking shopmen.

Strikers Returning

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Local officials of the Pennsylvania Monday announced that six of the 165 Pennsylvania shopmen who went on strike here Saturday, returned to work Monday and that they understood the strikers were returning in groups of ten to fifteen all over the system. The Pennsylvania has settled the wage question with its shopmen, it was added.

Pickets Sent Out

BOSTON, Miss.—Systematic picketing of engine house, shops and terminals in this district was started Monday by striking railway shopmen.

The employment offices of the Boston and Maine reported that 800 men already had been hired to replace strikers.

Threaten Shop Closing

CHICAGO, Ill.—At the Jackson, Mich., shops of the Michigan Central 1,000 shopmen who walked out Saturday were given until July 15 to return to work under the road's threat to close the shop permanently and have all work done in the east.

Officials of the mechanical department of the M. K. and Texas railway at Parsons, Kas., went into the roundhouse and took the places of striking shopmen.

Little change was reported in the situation in the St. Louis district where officials and clerks took the places of strikers.

At Omaha union leaders claimed that more than 97 per cent of shopmen employed by the Union Pacific had joined the strike, while company officials said about 75 per cent of their shopmen had walked out.

WISCONSIN HARVEST INCLUDES HALF OF NATION'S PEA CROP

State Produced 4,900,000 cases in 1921; 46 Percent of Country's Total

LA CROSSE COUNTY ONE OF BIGGEST PRODUCERS

At Least 150,000 Cases Canned Here in 1921

MADISON, Wis.—One-half of the pea crop which will be used on the tables of all the people of the United States this year is now being harvested in Wisconsin. Approximately 10,000,000 cases of canned peas are produced annually in the United States. In 1921 this state produced 3,940,000 cases, 46.3 per cent of the nation's output; in 1920, 5,720,000 cases, 47.4 per cent, and in 1919, 4,510,000 cases, 52.7 per cent. Dane county produces 5 per cent of the Wisconsin crop or about 2½ per cent of all the canning peas grown in the United States.

La Crosse County Great

La Crosse county takes its place as one of the greatest pea canning districts in the United States with an output last season of at least 150,000 cases, or more than 3,500,000 cans. There are four large canneries located in the county. They are the Onalaska Pickle and Canning company at Onalaska with an output of 32,000 cases; the West Salem Canning company, where 24,000 cases were put up in 1921; the Hussa Canning and Pickle company with an output of 65,000 cases, and the Heimen Canning company. The office of the Holmen company declined to give out the figures of the amount of the 1921 pack.

Two general classes of peas are grown in Wisconsin—the early and the late. The most common variety of early peas is the "Alaska." Late peas are often known as "sweets." One of the principal varieties is "Horsford's Market Garden." The seed is planted as early as the ground can be prepared in the spring. Harvest of early peas usually begins about June 20. Harvest of the late crop is usually completed before August 1.

Scattered all over southern Wisconsin where peas are now being harvested are vineries where the peas are now being shelled. At the vining station the peas are shelled by a machine called a viner. The vines are stacked for use as silage and the shelled peas hauled to the factory in shallow boxes or trays.

At the factory itself there are usually from four to eight viners. Here the vines are usually stored in an immense silo. In the factory the shelled peas are graded, washed and canned. The majority of the work is done by machinery, but much hand labor must be employed.

An average factory represents an investment in land, buildings and machinery of over $50,000. The average factory can take care of the product from about 600 acres, although some factories are equipped to handle as many as 1,600 acres. The average output is 60,000 cases or 1,140,000 cans. Factory value of the product at an average of about $2.75 per case is $165,000.

LA CROSSE DISTRICT DAIRYMEN HAVE COWS LISTED IN REGISTER

Holmen, Cataract and Leon Valley Associations Represented in Production Register

The register of production cows for Wisconsin, published in April of this year, is being distributed by the extension service of the College of Agriculture, in co-operation with the Wisconsin Dairymen's association. The first Wisconsin register of production was put out in 1918, and was the first of its kind in the United States. The purpose of the publication is to raise the average yearly production of the Wisconsin dairy cow, and the average yearly profits of Wisconsin dairymen.

Garret Bymers & Son, H. R. Halverson, Emil Knudson, Ludwig Lee, George Schaller and Ernest Skogen of Holmen and Henry Waldenberger of Midway, members of the Holmen Cow Testing association have cows registered in the bulletin, as have Elmer Daulton, Melvina, and Ray A. Gamble, Ben Muehlenkamp, M. E. Schwarz of Sparta, members of the Leon Valley association. The members of the Cataract association having cows registered are: B. L. and W. H. Hanchett, Carl Hansen, Norman Hansen and Fred Luther of Sparta, and Wesley Dawley, Alfred Johnson and Moses Smith of Cataract. The above mentioned dairymen are the only ones from the La Crosse district having cows listed in the register.

TOMAH CREAMERY REPORTS BIGGEST BUSINESS JUNE 17

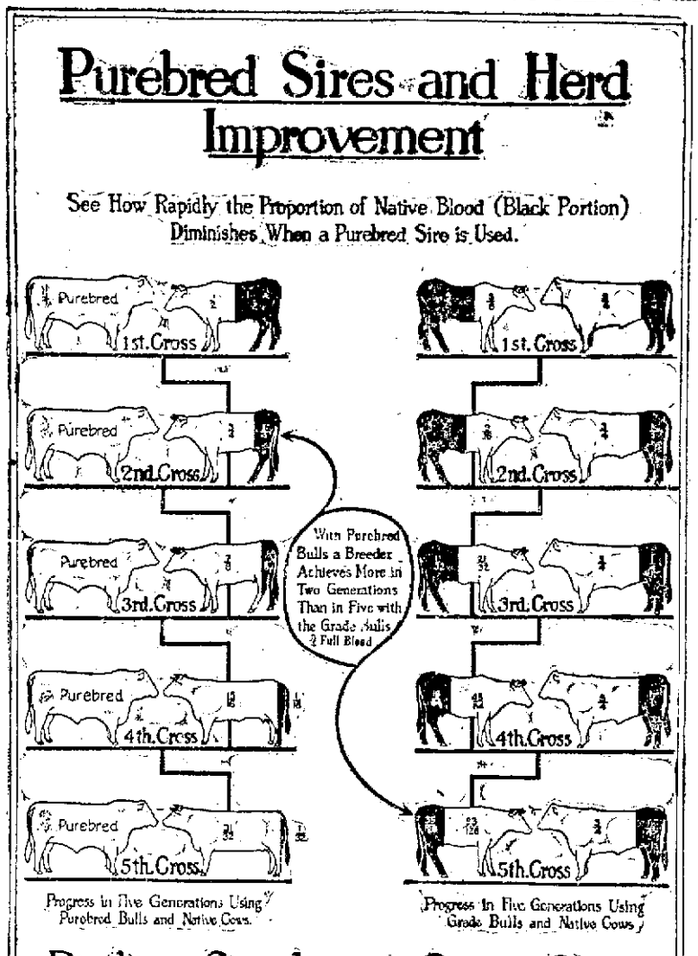
TOMAH, Wis.—Business at the Tomah Co-operative Creamery is at the high tide of not only the season's output, but the biggest output in the history of the creamery. On Saturday, June 17, three tons of butter or six thousand pounds were made. Several patrons of the creamery are getting checks that total $400 per month. The present price paid for butterfat is forty cents per pound, the highest ever paid.

IMPROVE YOUR HERDS BY USE OF PURE BRED SIRES PLEA OF DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE



There is but one way to improve a herd, flock or drove, and that is by the use of pure bred sires. A cattle census, taken in 21 counties, shows that even in Wisconsin, much too large a number of farmers are using scrub and grade bulls. Although Wisconsin is a leader as a dairying and meat producing state, the grade and scrub bulls outnumber the pure bred bulls in all but three of the counties where the censes was made.

The accompanying cut, sent out by the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin is self-explanatory. It shows how rapidly the proportion of native blood in cattle decreases when pure bred sires are used, and how slowly it decreases with the use of a grade sire.

Much improvement in the condition of herds in this district has been noted in the past few years, directly due to the increased use of pure bred sires. This work has been greatly helped by the creation of cow testing associations, calf clubs and breeders' associations.

CRUSADE AGAINST COMMON BARBERRY BUSH IS LAUNCHED

Wisconsin Gets $30,500 for Use in Eradication of Black Stem Rust

The United States government (July 1) took an active hand in the campaign for the prevention of black stem rust on grain when a federal drive for the eradication of the common barberry bush was launched simultaneously in thirteen states of the spring wheat area.

The work is being financed by a recent congressional appropriation of $5,50,000. Of this sum $30,750 is to spent in Wisconsin under the direction of Noel F. Thompson, state leader of the United States department of agriculture anti-barberry forces. From headquarters at Madison Mr. Thompson will direct the work of thirteen teams of two men each during the next three months.

Besides Wisconsin the states to receive attention are South Dakota, Ohio, North Dakota, Nebraska, Montana, Michigan, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Colorado, Minnesota and Wyoming.

The federal workers are not required actually to dig out the plantings they find in the course of their survey. Their mission is to call the attention of land owners and tenant farmers to the existence of the offending bushes and ask that they be removed promptly in the interests of next year's grain crops. They also will carry on an educational campaign to convince grain growers that government and state agricultural scientists are correct in stating that the common barberry bush is the principal source of black stem rust, which has damaged cereal crops to the extent of millions of dollars annually in recent years.

ONE WEEK COURSE AT COUNTY SCHOOL OFFERED FOR GIRLS

Director L. C. Imich of the County School of Agriculture and Domestic Economy announces that the one week course for girls will be held about the last week in July.

The girls who attend the course will live right in the school building, the auditorium of which will be temporarily transformed into a dormitory. Classes in sewing and cooking will be held during the morning hours, and the afternoons will be devoted to sightseeing trips to the manufacturing plants and other points of interest in the county.

BUILDING BOOM ON AROUND LA CROSSE

Many new buildings are being erected on the farms in the vicinity of La Crosse this summer. Carl Hauge, town of Campbell, and Ed Mashek, route No. 2 of La Crosse, are putting up new barns which are to be equipped with all of the modern improvements. Other barns, silos, etc., are under construction on various farms.

A bulletin sent out by E. L. Luther, superintendent of the state farmers' institutes, urges the building of more silos in the state. He states that money put into a silo by a farmer will yield a big return on his investment.

WISCONSIN YOUTHS TO BE REPRESENTED AT NATIONAL SHOW

Boys and Girls Entered in National Dairy Show Next Fall at St. Paul

ST. PAUL—Wisconsin boys and girls will be well represented at the 1922 national dairy show here next fall.

Two demonstration teams and one stock judging team have been entered by state boys' and girls' club leader, T. L. Bewick. By being among the first 10 states to enter demonstration teams at the national dairy show, Wisconsin has been awarded $100.00 for expense money. Suitable premiums will be awarded winning teams.

Badger boys and girls will enter every class in the exhibits, according to Bewick. Competition is to be keen as the exhibitors represent some of the best work done by more than 300,000 boys and girls' club members in the United States. An entire building will be given over to the junior exhibitors and demonstrators.

The Wisconsin stock judging team will have "fast company" as about 20 states are to send teams. This is a larger class than last year when but 16 teams were entered. Wisconsin was one of three States to enter individual exhibits last year.

Wisconsin has about 18,000 boys and girls enrolled in club work. Last year they were the greatest exhibitors of dairy calf exhibits at the annual dairy classic and carried off over two-thirds of the prize money. That they will better their record at the coming show is the prophecy of their state leader.

Mary Garden cried when two governors kissed her. Looking at their pictures, we don't blame Mary.

TOBACCO GROWERS OF STATE ACCEPT POOL; FULL QUOTA SIGNED

Results of Drive During Last Week Point to Success in Wisconsin

VERNON COUNTY TOBACCO MEN STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF POOL

La Crosse and Monroe Counties Unreported; Acreage Small

The success of the State Tobacco Pool in Wisconsin is assured with more than the required 75 per cent of the crop already signed up. The pool idea went over strong in the state, even in Dane County, which was considered most doubtful, and upon which the success of the pool largely depended.

Monroe county, the largest tobacco raising center in this section of the state went over strongly in favor of the pool association, according to a statement made Monday morning by Sam Neprud of Viroqua, local chairman in charge of the pool. Exact figures are not available as yet, but it is certain that the number of growers who signed contracts is much in excess of the required amount.

La Crosse and Monroe counties, where the tobacco acreage is small and scattered, have not yet returned final reports, but it is expected that the majority of the growers are in favor of the pool. In La Crosse county there is a total acreage of only 200 acres, and while it is somewhat larger in Monroe county, it is not large enough to affect the success of the statewide pool.

LA CROSSE COUNTY FARM BUREAU NOTES

The Farm Bureau members in the Towns of Holland and Onalaska will hold a picnic in the beautiful grounds in the village of Holmen on July 4, to which the public is invited. An interesting program has been prepared and there will be sports and games to amuse all, together with a picnic dinner.

* * * *

The Farm Bureau has organized a national sales agency, under the direction of the growers of fruits and vegetables, to market the products of co-operative associations and to provide a nation-wide sales and distribution service for its members.

* * * *

Over 3,000,000 motor vehicles are owned on the farms of the United States—a convincing argument for good farm-to-farm roads. The farm-Bureau is interested in transportation and strongly urges support of all movements for the improvement of our highways.

* * * *

It has been aptly said that the value of land is in inverse ratio to the amount of gasoline required to reach it. An analysis of the factors determining land values will show this statement to be true. The farmer is therefore naturally and materially interested in the good roads movement locally as well as nationally and a pronounced "booster" for highway improvement.

* * * *

The farmers of La Crosse County are progressive, they are leaders in the improvement of dairy breeds and pure-bred stock, and the results are shown not only in the county's high standing in agricultural lines, but what is directly more interesting to the farmer is it brings better prices for high stock. The recent sales of a consignment of milch cows shipped by La Crosse County breeders to the State of Washington is a demonstration of the value of pure-bred stock, a number of the cows having been sold for prices ranging about $200.00 per head. That is considered a top price during these times.

* * * *

L. F. Atwater, the well known Duroc-Jersey swine raiser, reports that on a recent trip to the eastern part of the state he noted an increased interest in the purebred hog market and that price of stock is advancing. The increase in number of inquiries and the prospects for better prices in the future are ecouraging to the breeders of pure-bred hogs, and La Crosse County will profit largely, the pig men having large "crops" of high class hogs to market.

* * * *

The hay crop is about secured and the crop has been mainly satisfactory, although there was a large acreage of clovers winter-killed.

* * * *

The Farm Bureau has its "Welcome" sign out continually and invites into its membership every farmer who is sufficiently interested in his own welfare to become a member of the great organization that has accomplished and is accomplishing so much for the real benefit of agriculture, for the interests of the farmer and his family, and incidently or the entire nation. No farmer in this progressive Co., can afford to be outside the Farm Bureau. Do not wait to be asked to join, send in your application and demonstrate your interest in your own affairs and your own interests and investments.

* * * *

The Farm Bureau is at the service of every farmer in the Co. whether a member or not, in conjunction with the County Agent. Take advantage of this service whenever you require it.

* * * *

A bill introduced in Congress establishing a Federal standard for butter, making the minimum butter-fat content 80 per cent and the maximum content 16 per cent, is attracting the interest and the support of the dairy industry. A number of states have already requirements for a higher per cent of butter fat content than this, but the Dairy Division of the Department of Agriculture advocates the fixing of it at not more than 80 per cent.

LA CROSSE COUNTY FARMERS WARNED TO LOOK OUT FOR OUTBREAK OF HOG CHOLERA

MADISON, Wis.—"The appearance of hog cholera in Dane, Rock and Green counties, in the vicinity of Cambridge, Deerfield, Stoughton, Eggerton and Albany, following the purchase of young feeder pigs, has alarmed farmers and breeders in infected localities," said Dr. J. T. Purcel in charge of hog cholera control work for the state and federal departments of agriculture.

"Investigation has revealed that the speculators responsible for the spread of the disease bought the pigs at a sale at Hartford, Wis., on May 17, and seven farmers have already experienced losses more or less severe. Efforts are being made to confine the outbreak to those farms which have been contaminated by these infected feeders, and the Wisconsin department of agriculture solicits the co-operation of all farmers in the infected territory.

"Watch your hogs closely. If you are anywhere near an infected farm, vaccinate your hogs at once. Don't wait for the disease to come to you, because vaccination is a preventive, not a curative treatment.

"Don't buy feeder hogs of unknown origin unless you vaccinate them as soon as they reach your farm, and even then you should isolate them for a period of three weeks before placing them with other healthy hogs.

"Losses through hog cholera are unnecessary if proper precautions are taken." The practice of carting feeder hogs from door to door has now assumed the proportions of a thriving and profitable industry, but in many cases it is profitable for the seller only, unless the buyer realizes the chances he takes of introducing the disease onto his farm, and guards against it by proper vaccination and quarantine."

The disease has not yet put in its appearance in this locality, said W. E. Spreiter, La Crosse county agricultural agent, but farmers are urged to practice the greatest precaution, and to report at once any hog showing any signs of sickness of any sort.

Two years ago hog raisers in the vicinity of West Salem and Bangor suffered severe losses from an outbreak of cholera, because they did not recognize the symptoms of the disease and put off preventive treatment until too late.

BANGOR MAN STARTS NEW POULTRY FARM ON A LARGE SCALE

A new poultry farm on a large scale was started last spring by August Vander Ohe of Bangor. Mr. Vander Ohe has on his place 5,000 newly hatched White Leghorn chicks. He intends to keep only about 2,000 of them for laying, marketing the remainder.

A fine, large new hen house was built on the Vander Ohe farm this year, and it is planned to enlarge it as the business and stock increase.

HOLMEN COW TESTING ASSOCIATION SHOWS GOOD RESULTS IN MAY

H. Waldenberger's Ayrshires Again Lead; James Haug's Guernseys Second

H. Waldenberger's herd of Ayrshire are again on top with an average production of 924 pounds of milk testing 4.30 per cent, making 39.78 butterfat.

Second high herd goes to James Haug's Guernseys with an average production of 713 pounds of milk, testing 5.29 per cent, making 37.77 pounds butterfat. Of the 416 cows tested, 60 made better than 40 pounds of butterfat.

High cow goes to H. Waldenberger's Ayrshire with 1,518 pounds milk testing 4.5 per cent, making 68.3, which is quite high, considering this cow has made 241.1 pounds butterfat in the last four months, or an average of 60.2 pounds per month.

ANNUAL PICNIC AT EXPERIMENT STATION IS WELL ATTENDED

County Agent E. L. Liddle and Burr Nelson of Tomah Represent Monroe County

About 3,000 people attended the annual experiment station day at Madison last week according to County Agent Liddle who, together with Burr Nelson of Tomah, represented Monroe county.

Every summer, one day is set aside as a picnic day, when farmers of the state are asked to visit the State Agricultural College and the experimental work that is being done. Mr. Liddle says that the program this year was an unusually good one. All plans were carried through in a systematic way and much interest was manifested in the demonstrations and the experimental plots. According to Liddle, the alfalfa plots were particularly interesting and showed in a striking manner the difference in hardiness between the common and Grimm varieties. He informs us that while the Grimm alfalfa stood the severe winterkilling weather generally prevalent in southern Wisconsin last winter, the common alfalfa was almost entirely killed out. Those who saw the Grimm plots last week, strong and thrifty, and alongside, the common alfalfa plots with only here and there a living plant, were convinced that Grimm seed is the safest and cheapest to use although it costs considerably more.

Mr. Graber, in charge of the alfalfa experimental work, explained, however, that Grimm could not be expected to survive same of the severest years of winterkilling.

The demonstration showing the comparative value of yellow and white corn for hog feeding was looked upon with much interest. This demonstration proved that yellow corn was considerably more valuable for hogs on dry lot but for hogs on good pasture practically no difference between the yellow and white has been noted. This was explained by the fact that yellow corn and the various pasture crops contain certain growth producing substances—vitamines—not found in white corn.

The emergency hay crop plots were exceedingly popular with the crowds who made the inspection trip over the experiment station farm, according to Mr. Liddle, and showed in a striking manner that valuable crops can be grown to take the place of clover or alfalfa that has killed out.

The one that is proving a valuable emergency hay crop is peas and oats seeded at the rate of 100 pounds of peas and a bushel and a half of oats. A fixture of soy beans and Sudan Grass is also being tried but not enough work has been done with it yet to prove its real worth.

The state experiment station is carrying on some wonderful work to assist farmers with their problems, and the annual summer picnic is one means of giving the public an opportunity to see first hand what is beng done.

MONROE COUNTY JERSEY BREEDERS ANNUAL PICNIC

TOMAH, Wis.—The annual picnic of the Monroe County Jersey Breeders' association was held on the William Dicken farm near Wilton on June 25. More than one hundred persons were in attendance. An excellent program of interest to the association was presented. A picnic dinner and supper and social time were enjoyed. The association is one of three successful ones organized in the county in the interests of pue-bred stock.

TOMAH COW MAKES RECORD

TOMAH, Wis.—With a record of 71.1 pounds of butterfat for the month of May, a pure bred Holstein cow, six years old, owned by E. L. Split, led the Wilton Cow Testing association for May. Twenty-two cows in the group produced more than forty-five pounds of butterfat for the same period. These facts bespeak the grade of stock owned by members of the association, one of Monroe county's most flourishing.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS TO HOLD MEETING AT MILWAUKEE JULY 7TH

Local Men Planning to Attend Convention of Wisconsin Association

MEANS OF EXTENDING WORK IN STATE WILL BE CONSIDERED

Representative Turnout Urged by Officers

The La Crosse district may be represented at the state wide meeting of Holstein breeders of Wisconsin which is announced for 11 o'clock Friday, July 7, in the Republican House, Milwaukee. Sam Hyde of La Crosse, prominent Holstein breeder, is making tentative plans to attend the convention.

All Invited

All breeders interested in state and county Holstein association activities are urged to attend. The purpose of this meeting is to consider ways and means for making the state association duly organized and properly functioning as this expression is to be implied by the national organization in keeping with the new policy adopted at the recent Kansas City convention which would permit a portion of national association money being expended by the Wisconsin state organization for extension purposes. The financing of the state and county organizations for the balance of this year; the formulating of a possible state and county organizations participating; and the outlining of a program of future activities which will have its effect upon the advancement of Wisconsin Holstein interests throughout the state and nation are important matters to be considered.

Representative Turnout Wanted

President Schroeder of West Bend and Secretary Oldham of Madison are especially desirous that a representative number of Wisconsin breeders attend this meeting and sit in counsel with the officers and directors of the state organization so that a definite policy and purpose of organized effort may be advocated and adopted by the various units of organization interests in the welfare of Wisconsin her Holsteins and their owners.

CATTLE BREEDERS PICNICS HELD IN VIROQUA DISTRICT

Holstein and Jersey Breeders Associations Enjoy Sunday Outings

On Sunday, June 11, the Holstein breeders of Vernon county enjoyed an outing at the home of T. C. Knutson. A basket luncheon was served, after which the business of the day was begun with the election of officers. Charles Fowell was named president; T. C. Knutson, vice president, and Harold Kellicut, secretary-treasurer. The day was concluded by a free for all judging contest.

The Vernon county Holstein breeders gave a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Knutson for their generosity in furnishing the day's entertainment.

The following Sunday the Jersey breeders of Vernon county attended a picnic at the home of Lars Rusdal. At least 200 people were present.

Mr. Hill of Tomah, secretary of the Wisconsin State Jersey Breeders' association made the principal address, emphasizing the importance of promoting the Jersey cattle breed through cow testing association work, through junior clubs and through local advertising.

Lars Rusdal was named president of the Jersey association; Chris Kragsval, vice president and Otton Olson, secretary-treasurer. The show and sale committee appointed consists of Messrs. Schelling, Statslien and Neprud. Messrs Norris, Munske and Froiland were named to the executive committee.

LIVESTOCK FLOATS TO FEATURE PARADE AT SPARTA JULY 4

Farmers' floats will be one of the features of the July 4th at Sparta tomorrow. Each of the County Livestock Breeders' associations will have an attractive float decorated in a way to characterize each of the dairy breeds. Included in this line-up will be the Holstein, Guernseys, Jerseys and Brown Swiss. The committees are vieing with each other to win one of the prizes offered and the indications are that the dairy livestock interests will be well represented in a parade that will be more than a mile long.

County Agent Liddle will have all the Boy and Girl club members dressed in dairy suits who will march. There will be more than 50 youngsters who are learning farming with the idea of being real business farmers ten or fifteen years hence.

The Sparta creamery will also have a float representing the center of the dairy industry of western Monroe county.

HORTICULTURAL CLUBS MEET SATURDAY NIGHT

Meetings of the Brown Valley and the North Ridge Horticultural societies were held in their respective districts Saturday night. The meetings were addressed by well known speakers on subjects of general interest to the club.

A big picnic, in which all of the eight societies in the county will participate, is planned for the near future.

Mob Hypnotism

UNDER the influence of that peculiar form of psychology known as "mob hypnotism," it takes the average person about 30 seconds to throw off the mask of civilization and revert to the lowest form of savagery.

The other day in Cleveland, an auto driver speeding 50 miles an hour through congested streets was pursued by motorcycle police. Other auto drivers joined in the chase, like small boys chasing the fire engine. By the time the reckless driver was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated, the pursuing autos numbered 50, and cries of "Lynch him!" were ringing forth. There might really have been a lynching, if the chase had been longer and no cops were present. A mob transforms quickly into a blood-hunting, hypnotic state.

The atrocities of the recent mine massacre in Illinois were committed by men who probably never would think of committing murder while alone. The mob spirit hypnotized them.

These fits of mob or social insanity happen in a flash by chance. They also come in waves—epidemics of dancing, freak fashions, madmen's cults and similar phenomena. Most of us are reasonably sane—when alone. But whenever human beings congregate in large groups, something crazy always happens or is started. When people swarm together, a mysterious psychic current is generated and, by hypnotism, leads them to do queer things. Thus you see quiet, respectable people make fools of themselves in cabarets. A dignified person at a dance sometimes catches the fever and begins cutting up like a lunatic. Jokers utilize this principle to get men at a banquet to wear absurd tissue-paper dunce hats. And the wearers seem to enjoy it, though they wouldn't wear the hats for $100 except under "the spell" of mob hypnosis.

The tendency that people have, of making asses of themselves when they get together in large groups, may explain why we do so many fool things when we get together in the form of government. As voters we back community or national projects based on principles that none of us would think of countenancing in our private lives. Mob hypnotism is what makes a man, who is a genius of economy and practicalness in private life, "fall for" visionary and impracticable projects when serving in public office. Carry the idea on and you understand why, the larger the population grows, the worse the government becomes. China, for instance.

Wisconsin's Mutton

PRESIDENT HARDING wants congressmen, now coming nome to talk politics with their constituents, to explain the ship subsidy plan to them. Wisconsin congressmen are said to be cold toward the proposition. Some of them may oppose it on the stump, instead of favorably elucidating it, as the president desires.

Two questions will be asked about the ship subsidy, in the main. Can the United States have a merchant marine without a ship subsidy? If not, would the country be better off with a subsidized merchant marine than with no merchant marine, or practically none?

As to the necessity for a ship subsidy, it will be urged that with superior living conditions which we in America insist upon, we can not succeed in any line which requires straight competition with countries where cost standards are lower.

We have the tariff for our manufacturers, and sometimes for our farmers. Senator La Follette's idea is that the tariff should be high enough to "equalize the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad." Would it be a parallel were we to adopt a ship subsidy that would "equalize the cost of shipping between the American base and foreign countries?"

A point will be made of the fact that shipping cost is higher here because of the La Follette seamen's act. It is true, and probably no liberal American would change it. It was expected that the seamen's act would force other countries to meet American standards of pay and conditions for sailors. This has been the general tendency, because sailors prefer to sign with American ships in every port where our ships ply, and with the growth of the American merchant marine, this tendency will grow. But, of course, complete equalization can never be affected. On the whole, America pays men better and treats men better than any other country, and the results show in the cost figures of all lines of business.

One hopes Wisconsin congressmen will not be guided by their conclusions as to whether the ship subsidy plan is meat, either one way or the other, for their political feast. With their favorable opportunities for studying the question as a national problem, they should come here prepared to give us sound counsel, not to pander to what they guess our whims to be. Good or bad, they should acquaint us with the merits of the measure.

But those Wisconsin congressmen, if there be any, who believe that the ship subsidy bill is a good thing, or can be made a good thing, can perform one service for Wisconsin and for the whole interior of the country. President Harding has declared for the St. Lawrence shipway. All Wisconsin senators and congressmen are for it. All party platforms are for it. With or without a ship subsidy, it would be a great boon to the middle west. But how tremendously more important to this great section the ship subsidy would be were ocean shipping brought to Great Lakes ports! We could load Wisconsin cheese and tobacco in Milwaukee and Green Bay for London and Hong Kong. It would make Wisconsin a seaboard state.

Coast states are opposing the St. Lawrence shipway. They want the ship subsidy. Wisconsin may well feel very differently about subsidizing ships that come no nearer than New York harbor, on the one hand, and ships that, on the other hand, anchor in Wisconsin lake ports.

Would it not be good business for such members of Wisconsin's delegation in congress as favor a ship subsidy to start a middle-west movement to make the adoption of the ship subsidy bill contingent upon the passage of the St. Lawrence shipway bill? It may be called log-rolling, but the end appears to justify the means. The great republican states on the Lakes and in the Mississippi valley can pool their votes and force this agreement through congress.

No St. Lawrence shipway, no ship subsidy!

Seismograph shows another earthquake. It may be the pessimists shocked at better times.

Our army has a polo team. The army is bigger than we thought.

Tired of Jim

BY H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

For just two years Marie and Jim had been engaged and, until the day before yesterday, they had been quite happy. The long engagement was none of Jim's wishing. Force of circumstances in the shape of an invalid and absolutely dependent brother had made it impossible for Jim just out of the service when he met Marie, to lay aside enough to justify the assumption of new burdens.

At first they had made plans for a somewhat indefinite future, but of late they had grown—Marie especially—to seize the present and let the days to come take care of themselves.

And now, this sunny afternoon when an advance spring breeze perfumed the air, they had quarreled.

"Yes, I like you, Jim," wailed Marie finally, "only—only I think I am tired of you and tired of being engaged. Yes, it's dreadful to say, but how much better to find out before we are m-married. So here's your r-ring!"

Stupidly, Jim held out his hand for the shining bit of jewelry. Then he straightened his shoulders. "Of course, dear," he said soberly. "It's worlds better. I'll try to take it sensibly. Now, let's go home."

If, after Jim had left Marie, he wondered if any other man had been the cause of her defection, he tried to stifle the suspicion. To be sure, any girl would have grown weary long ago of this monotonous waiting. And he offered no happier prospects after marriage, if marriage could ever be. Well, his sole duty now lay with his brother.

As far as Marie was concerned no other man than Jim had ever claimed even one tiny thought. Yet there was another man in the offing—a tall, sleek, not unattractive youth, who had many times eyed Marie admiringly as they ascended together in the elevator to their respective places of employment. And that man, Bert Rogers, had decided to meet Marie. Six days after Marie's engagement to Jim was broken he accomplished his wish through the agency of a fellow stenographer of Marie's.

And on the day after he met Marie Bert drove her in his small but mile devouring roadster far up along the Hudson. There was nothing slow about Bert.

Marie, left at loose ends of her own making, found life far more exciting now than it had been with Jim. Jim's money had been limited and had to be spent in many ways. Bert's appeared to be ample and had but one outlet—one good time after another. And just now it pleased him to include Marie.

Seats at the latest comedy; supper at the most exclusive little restaurant beaches; hamper picnics on distant beaches; midnight dances at softly lighted, glassy floored dance halls—Marie went the pace and didn't stop to wonder when—or where—it would all end.

Arrived the night of the infantry ball, the one annual extravagance she and Jim permitted themselves, Bert tossed tickets for it into her lap as they sat together on a grassy bluff overlooking the Candy Hook panorama.

"Not crazy about it," said Bert in his blase way, "but we might as well take it in."

Other years Marie had not fussed unduly about her clothes. Poor old Jim had thought that whatever she wore outshone the costumes of all the others. Bert, Marie realized, was siderably more critical. Therefore she drew on her rainy day balance and splurged.

Bert's flowers were lavish and showy, and, Marie couldn't help but think, not nearly as fragrant as the modest bunch of violets which had always come from Jim. Pinning them on, she sighed as she gave a final survey in the mirror. Would Jim ever have recognized, in the sophisticated image which met his gaze, his little Marie.

For some reason or other, nothing went just right. Bert could not dance—at least, not in that sturdy, swinging way she had learned to love in Jim. Also, she didn't care for the silly compliments Bert whispered in her ear as he held her rather too closely. Jim never would talk as he danced. Said he had a single-track mind and couldn't keep his feet and his tongue going at the same time.

Odd, after all, thought Marie to herself, to be dancing with the man who was giving you the time of your young life, and recalling the man you had grown tired of.

The crisis came at intermission. Half concealed by a screen of palms, Bert threw his arms around Marie's shoulder. That instant, Marie knew. Knew that it was Jim and not Bert, who could bring her happiness.

"Take me home at once, Bert," she insisted coldly. "I'm—I'm sick of it." And Bert, inwardly sneering at the girl who wouldn't "play up" as he called it, was forced to acquiesce.

Although the hour was late when Marie found herself at home and alone, it was not too late, she told herself nervously, to find out if Jim was still free—free to become bound again. Quivering, she stood at the telephone.

"Yes,—yes—it's Marie. Oh, Jim, could you come over for five minutes? Something to tell you!"

Fifteen minutes later Jim stood in the doorway, and straightway forgot that a waiting taxi outside was running up a steep record. All he realized was that Marie was holding out both hands.

"Do you mean you aren't tired of me, after all, dear?" Jim wanted to be sure.

"Well," and Marie dimpled. "I'd rather be tired of you than of anything else! Oh, Jim!"

OUT OUR WAY — BY WILLIAMS

PLANT ENOUGH FEED IS PLEA TO FARMER

MADISON, Wis.—George C. Humphrey, head of the animal husbandry department at the university, on Thursday issued a statement advising Wisconsin farmers, especially in northern Wisconsin, to plant sufficient feed to keep their cattle well fed when pasture is gone.

"Cow-horn turnips make a good crop for new land and fall feeding," said Mr. Humphrey. "Disk or spring tooth the land and sow late in the season at the rate of one pound of seed an acre. Good results have been secured by seeding even after the middle of July. Rutabagas, mangels and other varieties of roots may also be grown to good advantage. Store roots where they will not freeze and feed them daily in a sliced or chopped condition. A pit or cellar can be easily made in which to store roots.

"In addition to hay and roots or silage, cows should receive a mixture of grain equivalent to one pound of grain for each three to four pounds of milk produced. It pays to weigh the milk at each milking time and to feed according to milk production."

And there are patriotic gatherings where folk wish they knew the words to our national anthem.

We favor a safe and sane Fourth of July. There are 365 days in every year. Why not have one of these 365 safe and sane?

GUARDSMAN HURT ON DUTY ENTITLED TO COMPENSATION

Industrial Commission Rules Member of Guard is Workman in Employ of State

REVERSES DECISION OF STATE ATTORNEY GENERAL

State Claims Guardsman is Soldier, Not Workman

MADISON, Wis.—A member of the Wisconsin national guard while on duty is a workman in the employ of the state and entitled to workman's compensation if injured, the industrial commission held Monday. Compensation was awarded to a man who was thrown from his horse while attending cavalry drill.

It is the contention of the state that a militiaman is a soldier, not a worker and that he cannot lawfully be entitled to compensation. Action to test the industrial commission award appeal will be taken at once to the Dane county circuit court, J. E. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, announced.

After extending hearings the commission concluded that "a member of the national guard is an employee subject to the compensation act, and that, when injured while performing services growing out of and incidental to his employment, he is entitled to the benefits provided by the compensation act."

This opens the way to payment of compensation to national guardsmen who are injured during their annual encampment and during company drill during the year. A large number of applications for compensation benefits are expected to be made on the basis of the interpretation.

"It clearly cannot be seriously doubted, the commission's opinion continues, 'that the applicant, while in the performance of his duties as a national guardsman was in the service of the state. We believe that the compensation statute is inclusive of every person in the service of the state, under appointment or contract with the single exception of officers of the state who are not subject to the direction and control of any superior officer or officers.

"It is our belief, and we have held on numerous occasions that that not only workmen as the term applied to persons performing manual labor, but clerical workers and professional men may be subject to provisions of the compensation act. Other states, without exception, have made the same holding.

"We are satisfied, that it was not the intent of the legislature to limit the term 'employe' within the scope contended for by the respondent and that the effect of other interpretations by the supreme court are so broad in effect that the definition of 'employe' should be sufficiently inclusive in its scope to bring members of the national guard within its purview."

And the country folk in town are wearing the edges off the buildings looking at them.

Many a pair of shoes were surprised today when they saw their first sidewalk.

PARENTS ARE BLAMED FOR MANY PHYSICAL FAULTS OF CHILDREN

Failure to Provide Proper Diets is Responsible Claim Nurses

MADISON, Wis.—Parents are being found largely responsible for physical faults of Wisconsin children, through their failure to provide proper diets for their growth, the nurses operating the child welfare special car of the state board of health report.

They say that in some localities of Sheboygan county where none of the children examined could speak or understand English, the mothers had been feeding their youngsters coffee in place of milk. One undernourished boy was living mostly on pop, according to the report.

In Sheboygan county the reports made to the state board of health described as normal only 65 out of the 227 infants and 320 pre-school children examined. Those of normal weight totalled 347, underweight 163 and overweight 39. Two days spent in Manitowoc where 46 infants and 53 pre-school children were examined 15 were found normal.

Conditions cited for correction in Sheboygan county children were: teeth, 182; bad tonsils, 211; defective vision, 15; refective hearing, 1; speech, 7; glands, 140; skin, 15; bones and muscle, 28; lungs, 63; heart, 28; nervous system, 3.

The board of health says that its meetings and the visits of the child welfare special are being well attended throughout the state.

OVER THREE MILLION MOTOR VEHICLES ARE OWNED BY FARMERS

MADISON, Wis.— Over 3,000,000 motor vehicles are owned on farms in the United States, a convincing argument for good farm-to-market roads, according to F. A. Cannon, secretary of the Wisconsin Good Roads Association.

Motor vehicles carried six times as many passengers as the steam railroads in 1921.

Figures compiled by the Bureau of Public Roads show that the total motor vehicle registration in the United States in 1921 was 10,467,-366 and the total revenue from registration and license fees was $122,-475,654. Gasoline taxes in twelve states contributed an additional revenue of $14,068,500. Of the total vehicles registered 9,422,844 were passenger cars, 982,604 trucks and commercial vehicles, and 50,547 taxicabs and buses. The highest registration, trucks and passenger cars included, was in the state of New York, 512,071. Ohio followed with 720,634; Pennsylvania, 689,-576; California, 650,614; Illinois, 602,345; Michigan, 476,152; Texas, 467,616; Iowa, 361,054; Indiana, 360,342; Massachusetts, 360,332; Missouri, 316,437; and Wisconsin, 341,841. This Wisconsin is in twelfth place.

PASTORS CHANGING PULPITS TO MAKE VACATION PERIODS

Rev. Claude R. Shaver Starts Arrangement by Preaching at Methodist Church

At the First Methodist church, on Sunday morning, a rather unusual summer schedule of services was inaugurated, when Rev. Claude R. Shaver, of the First Presbyterian church, conducted the worship. It was the first of the alternate joint meetings of these two congregations which will be continued through the months of July and August. The arrangement has been planned in order that each minister may take vacation; and yet feel that his people have opportunity for worship. Rev. E. C. Dixon, of the former church, will be away in July, during which time the Reverend Claude R. Shaver will conduct services alternately in their respective churches each Sunday morning, the turn being to the Presbyterian church next.

In anticipation of Independence Day, the theme of the discourse given by Rev. Mr. Shaver Sunday morning was "Four-Square Citizenship," taken from the text in Rev. 21:16, "The city lieth four-square; and the length is as large as the breadth." Inpart, he said: "Looking into the record of this remarkable vision of the Holy City, we, of the twentieth century, are not so much concerned about its material details as we are about the citizenship which may inherit it. The very possibilities of the human soul encourage us to expect marvels beyond the superlatives of language. Hence, upon the eve of the nation's birthday we may pause to ask as to four-square citizenship. Because, if there is to be a growth toward such an ideal in the future, it must begin in the cities of the present.

"Since our city life affects our character, we may well ask as to what are the characteristics of a four-square city. 'In Rome we do as the Romans' is a common aphorism; whose truthfulness may be tested by watching citizens who come into our midst. Is their standard of living raised or lowered by residence here?

"Perhaps we may agree that we have a four-square city of average quality. The four distinctive features being: first, business, professional or industrial opportunity; in which every man must earn his livelihood; second, there must be congenial home atmosphere; where domestic and family instincts may be cultivated. Third, there must be educational facilities including recreational features; for, in these days, recreation for thoughtful minds, should be educational. Hence the movements toward play-ground supervision and movie censorship. Last, but not least, in the four-square city is the privilege of religious expression, whereby the deepest and highest yearnings of the soul find satisfaction. Now, we are aware that there are many who are inclined to consider the first three of these essentials, but who fail to appreciate the fourth. There are also those who look very naturally at the first to the exclusion of all the rest.

One-Sided Views

"It is this one-sided view of life which accounts for so many one-sided and three-cornered people in the world. Most American cities would qualify as four-square, according to the foregoing definition; but the weakness lies with citizens who are 'too busy' or too indifferent to take advantage of the broadening influences which their city affords. In other words, their city is narrowed down to their own peculiar tastes and temperament. For example, here is the man whose life is wholly engrossed in business for himself. His city is just a tow path leading from home to office and back again. Solicitors for chamber of commerce memberships, last week, came upon such. They have no civic pride or community enthusiasm. Then there is the woman whose mania is 'society.' Her city's dimensions may be a card table or reception hall. She knows not of the public library, or the art exhibit, or the numerous musical program with their refining touches upon life. Those hundreds of young folk whose city is no broader than the movie screen or the dance hall, can not be overlooked because of the noise and clatter of their conduct. It quickly shows that they have no interest in the things which make for symmetrical manhood and womanhood; such as the framers of our National Constitution typified.

Stood Four-Square

"Referring to those staunch founders of the Republic, it is inspiring to note that they stood four-square, not only in their appreciation of commercial, domestic and educational elements of society, but they took God Almighty into account; both in recognizing a day of worship and in showing personal moral responsibility. Their idea of personal liberty was not a license for sensual indulgence, nor was it the 'states rights' notion which brought upon the nation the tragedy of the Civil War. It was a liberty to be determined by the thoughtful majority and which offered a choice upward, toward real life—not animal passion; and toward a happiness which is neither revelry nor debauchery.

"Witness the Continental Congress opening with prayer and phrasing its deliverances with respect to moral and neighborly development. Watch church and schools growing side by side; the former being responsible for most of the early colleges and universities. Read the political addresses of Chief Justice Marshall, John Witherspoon, Daniel Webster and Abraham Lincoln. Here you will see evidence of four-square citizenship, which modern statesmen may well adopt.

"Our meditation should not close without the example of four-square education implied in Luke's record of the adolescent period in the life of Jesus Christ; in which it is found that he grew in the four-fold capacity—wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man—Education today is strong as to the first couplet; but our boys and girls are so busy with these that they neglect the latter—'favor with God' in reverent habits and lofty ambitions; favor with men in respect for elders and in unselfish life purposes, as applied to service and citizenship."

The officers of the Presbyterian Church have provided their pastor with a Ford sedan which will facilitate parish and social activities.

Then he scratched his "John Hancock" and Great Britain was given her independence.

There were exactly 13 states represented. This number was very unlucky for King George.

WIFE OF MEXICAN IN MEXICO KILLED IN BANDIT RAID

Recognized Leader and Was Shot Says Report to State Department

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Mrs. Thomas Cheney, the Mexican-born wife of an American employed by an American company operating in the Tampico oil region, was killed by Mexican bandits June 29 when she recognized their leader, according to a report Monday to the state department from Consul Shaw at Tampico. As Mrs. Cheney is an American citizen by marriage, the department made immediate representations to the Mexican government recommending that the murderer be apprehended and punished.

The consul's message, dated June 30, said that about a dozen armed bandits who claimed to be followers of Manuel Larrago, had appeared at Chocoy station on the National railroad of Mexico, about forty miles northwest of Tampico, on the preceding day. They demanded a payment of 2,000 pesos. Mrs. Cheney recognized the leader of the band and was killed.

Manuel Larrago was last reported as having raided an oil camp in the vicinity of Tuxpum. He was said to be holding property at the Palo Blanco camp in that region for ransom, according to Consul Shaw's report.

An American in dear old London was bragging about his auto. He ended his eulogy by declaring:

"It runs so smoothly you can't feel it, so quietly that you can't hear it; it has such perfect ignition you can't smell it, and as for speed—boy, you can't see it!"

"But my word, old dear," interrupted the Briton anxiously, "how do you know the bally thing is there?"—Sovereign Visitor.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY EMPLOYERS VOTE TO STRIKE AT MIDNIGHT

Demand Immediate Increase of Five Percent Above Present Wage Scale

CHICAGO, Ill.—Trainmen on the Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee Electric railway voted Sunday night, 432 to 7, to walk out at midnight Monday unless the management grants an immediate five percent increase to the present wage scale of 73 cents an hour.

Previously the men had been offered a year's contract at a flat remuneration of ten per cent on the existing scale.

With the strike vote came a notification that George Quinn, president of the union, would call upon Britton I. Budd, president of the company, for the company's decision.

The company operates an express train to Milwaukee and two local trains to Waukegan, from Chicago, every hour, and operates the only street car line in Waukegan.

The men picked a psychological moment for their threatened strike—the eve of the Fourth of July, when the line does its heaviest day's business of the year.

Pope's Good-by to Cardinal Gibbons

I cannot help recalling an instance where a lady, a guest at the White House at luncheon, asked the late Cardinal Gibbons whether he really believed that the pope was infallible in all he said. The cardinal smiled and answered. "I can only respond to that, madame, by saying that when the pope bade me good-by the last time he said, 'Addio, Cardinale Jibbones!'" — Maurice Francis Egan in the Review of Reviews.

BOY SCOUTS NEED JOBS TO PREPARE FOR THEIR CAMP

Officials Ask for Little Odd Jobs for Lads Who Desire an Outing

An urgent appeal is made by the Scout officials of the city, to the citizens of La Crosse who have odd jobs such as mowing lawns, hoeing gardens, cleaning basements, picking berries, and other little tasks that are necessary in and about a home, for the Boy Scouts of the city who are unable to attend the Scout Camp because of lack of funds.

The ninth Scout law states that a scout is thrifty; he saves his money so that he may pay his own way; he is generous to those in need and helpful to worthy objects. He may work for pay but he must not receive tips for courtesies or good turns.

There are several scores of boys who have handed in their applications for camp who will have to withdraw them because of insufficient funds. Therefore, the request is made that any one who has small tasks to be done, get in touch with either W. S. Scullin, phone No. 1217-R; W. I. Rossiter, phone 2584; or Harry Spence, phone 794-M. These men are the Deputy Scout Commissioners of the City of La Crosse and are in a position to get in communication with the needy boys immediately after a call is sent in.

The scout camp will be run in four periods, each a week in length, cost being $5.60 per period. Donations are not wanted for the individual boy, but work, and plenty of it.

DETECTIVE POSING AS COUNT TRAPS 20 DRY LAW VIOLATORS

Methods of Chicago Sleuth Take Windy City Night Life Leaders by Surprise

CHICAGO, Ill.—Proprietors of hotels, restaurants, cafes and roadhouses sat in their offices Monday, sad but wiser men, while "Count" William Yazelli checked up the evidence on which he arrested proprietors and managers of more than twenty places Saturday night and Sunday for violating the prohibition laws.

The "count's" methods—he was at one time a working partner of Izzy Einstein in New York—took Chicago by surprise. Trained for years to recognize a sleuth by his heavy jowls, blue serge suit, broad-toed shoes and the stump of an unlighted cigar which all regular detectives chew, some of Chicago's best known night life leaders are still trying to figure out how it happened.

The "count" came to town a month ago, slim, sartorially perfect, with his moustache waxed to needle points and soon earned a reputation as a spender. When he appeared accompanied by a well gowned companion, head waiters bowed him to their choicest tables and—he says—bonded liquors were brought at his request.

Saturday he called on United States marshal and asked for twenty deputies. They followed him in automobiles. There was no tip-off for only the "count" knew where they were bound.

At each place Yazelli was ushered to his favorite table by smiling managers. Then the deputy marshals entered. The "count" produced a notebook, scanned his notes and said: "I want this man and that man and that man." The disillusioned proprietors and their helpers were bundled off to the federal building.

They will be arraigned Wednesday.

LETTER CAMPAIGN STARTED BY LAKES PARK ASSOCIATION

Those Not Reached Personally When Campaign Was on Being Urged to do Bit Now

Chairman Grover and the members of the La Crosse committee of the Northern Lakes Park campaign are sending a letter this week to residents of La Crosse whom it was impossible to reach when the campaign was made in this city. There were over 1,000 people whose names were on the list who were not called upon during the solicitation for funds in La Crosse. The letter is an appeal for each one of them to do his bit to "Save a Bit of Old Wisconsin"

The campaign is being pushed vigorously throughout the State. Thus far the work has been carried on at Milwaukee, Sheboygan, Appleton, Fond du Lac, Wausau, Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire, La Crosse, Marshfield, Ashland, and eight of the smaller cities in that vicinity, and the group of twenty cities and villages in Taylor, Price, Sawyer and Rusk Counties, near the park. These cities and villages, which are exceedingly small, did splendidly, contributing over $10,000,000.

The campaign is now under way at Neenah, Menasha, Racine, Waukesha, Oconomowoc, Ft. Atkinson and Jefferson. During the summer months the work will be pushed in the smaller cities and villages, and in September it will be again taken up in the fifteen larger cities remaining. There is no doubt of a successful conclusion.

ready quit work. His telegrams do not give authorization to strike, Mr. Healy insisted, but merely pointed out that the union could not hold the men at work.

On some roads the stationary engineers and firemen have already joined the shopmen 100 per cent strong, Mr. Healy said.

"No One Will Starve," Say Roads

NEW YORK.—Asserting "that nobody will starve and nobody will freeze," even though the strike of shopcrafts unions should continue to October, the season's heaviest traffic month, officials of the American Association of Railway Executives Monday announced they would maintain a "hands off" policy, leaving each road to extricate itself from the strike.

This policy would not be altered if maintenance of way men should join the shopcrafts unions, it was declared. With 4,500 locomotives and more than 100,000 cars in reserve, association chiefs asserted that "the situation could not possibly become as acute as the one which prevailed during the switchmen's strike of 1920 when all equipment was in a dilapidated condition."

Maintenance of way men are nearly 100 per cent unskilled, it was declared. Recruits to take the jobs of the 230,000 union men, contemplating a strike, could be recruited from the "floating army of unemployed."

FIVE MILLION LOSS REPORTED IN B. & O. FIRE AT BALTIMORE

Grain Elevators and Piers Destroyed by Flames; U. S. Hospital Threatened

BALTIMORE, Md. — The fire which swept the Locust Point river front of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad Sunday night, caused damage estimated by the company at $4,804,600 and seriously threatened the public health service hospital at Fort McHenry.

Two elevators containing 1,274,000 bushels of grain, two warehouses and piers loaded with merchandise, a power-house, drying shed, barges and other structures were destroyed. Two firemen were severely injured by falling debris. Four hundred disabled veterans in a nearby hospital were removed as fast as ambulances could remove them. Half a dozen ships tied up at the piers were removed safely, but at considerable risk to the rescuers.

POINT OF LAW MAY BAR BOUT BETWEEN KANSAS, LEONARD

Match Will be Prohibited if it is Prize Fight, Says Governor's Secretary

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—By the Associated Press.—A point of law may prevent the ring contest at Michigan City Tuesday afternoon between Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, and Rocky Kansas, according to Miss Adah Busch, executive secretary to Gov. W. T. McCray. Governor McCray was not in the city today.

According to Miss Busch the governor has requested Laporte county officials to make an investigation as to whether the contest is to be a prize-fight or a boxing contest. If it is the opinion of the county officials that the bout is to be a prize fight then the bout will be prohibited, it was said. An Indiana law, however, permits boxing contests.

Final decision on the matter, Miss Busch said she understood, will be made tonight when the governor is to hear from William E. Austin, sheriff of Laporte county and E. G. Rowley, prosecuting attorney of Laporte county. Governor McCray could not be located today.

Score by innings—
Viroqua .....200 000 100—3
Montagues .....500 000 01x—6

Summaries—Two base hits—Safford, C. Weigent. Three base hits—Moore, Safford. Struck out—By Pate, 3; by Morrison, 4. Base on balls—Off Pate, 4; off Morrison, 6. Double plays—C. Weigent to Moore to Safford; Curtis to L. Garin to Harris. Wild pitches—Pate, 1. Hit by pitcher—Morrison, Bromley.

GOOD support behind Pate and timely hitting of his teammates accounted for the Montague victory over the Viroqua baseball club in the first meeting of the two clubs at Copeland park Sunday afternoon. The score was 6 to 3. At the outset Pate, secured for the one game, was lacking of control and two singles on top of a pair of walks permitted the visitors to lead off with two scores. He warmed into the game as it progressed, however, and allowed but one additional count in the remainder of the game.

Locals Take Lead

Morrison started off in a similar fashion for the visitors, hitting Bromley and allowing a single, double and triple which counted four tallys on the locals' score sheet. With this introduction over the game settled down to a good exhibition of ball in which a double play for each club figured to speed up the game. Two of the Garins, Tom in left field and Lad on second, looked good with the Viroqua club, while the support given Pate by the Montagues was consistent throughout. Bromley appeared in his usual neat exhibition, and Franzini, although he felt out of place, made a good showing in the left garden.

Moore took occasion to straddle his hitting pace again Sunday, getting a triple in the first inning and connecting for another hit, a single, in the fourth. Charley Weigent netted a single and double, while Safford got a double and a triple.

Visitors Add One

With the score of 4 to 2 Viroqua threatened to even up in the seventh but fell short with but one run. The score came after two were out. Franzini misjudged Kuehn's high fly, who took second. Curtis' timely single brought in the run and Lad Garin ended the inning with a fly.

The locals sealed up the victory in the eighth. Bromley starting off with a single, but was caught off first. Charley Weigent doubled. Fitzke flyed to Garin in left who held Weigent at second. Franzini's single scored Weigent and Safford's triple brought in the final score. Tom Garin made his second out out of the inning by taking Glumski's fly.

Johnson, first string hurler who was to have been spared entirely in view of Whitehall's fourth of July game with Blair, was sent in for the final three innings of the game to check the onslaught of the locals.

Beranek in center field yesterday took everything in sight and as far as is known hung up a record of put outs in the outfield, being credited with eight. On top of his shifty fielding, Beranek added two hits in the column. Woll continued his hitting streak with three Sunday, Satek and Freng kept pace with him yesterday the latter mixing in one double. ## DECKS CLEARED FOR FIRST MEETING OF NELSONS AND MONTAGUES JULY FOURTH

Everything is set for the big Fourth of July battle at Copeland park.

Baseball fans today were eagerly awaiting the coming battle at Copeland park on Tuesday afternoon, when the Nelson Clothing company and Montague baseball teams line up in the first contest in the history of the two clubs.

The contest was the city-wide topic of conversation and discussion over the week-end in baseball circles and continued on Monday with increasing interest as the time for the game approached. Up until Monday morning it was announced at a prominent baseball resort that no wagers had been placed but it was expected that before the time for the game, fans would announce themselves in terms of the "long green."

Both clubs on Tuesday will send in their leading batteries fresh, Schultz and Gunderson both being spared from working in the Sunday games, while neither Stoneman or Franzini occupied their backstop positions.

One new player, and a valuable man, has been added to the Montague lineup following the first announcement of the team personnel. He is Bromley, who has been permanently located with the Montagues at third base. His addition to the club completes a quintet of heavy hitters at the head of the list. The addition of Bromley is not in accordance with the original agreement of lineups submitted.

The Nelson lineup will remain intact as it has been during the entire season.

Following are the men represented by each club:

Montagues—Haley, Fitzke, Allen, Jonsrud, Moore, C. Weigent, J. Weigent, Safford, Franzini, Gunderson, Viers, Bromley.

Nelsons—Satek, Stoneman, Woll, Smith, Schaffer, Johnson, E. Freng, Beranek, Klanrud, Shields, Krause, Schultz.

LA CROSSE NEWS WINS AND LOSES IN SUNDAY GAMES

Defeat Levy Specials, 18 to 1, and Lose to La Crescent, 8 to 6

The La Crosse News company divided a double-header on Sunday, trouncing the Levy Specials by an overwhelming score of 18 to 1 and losing to La Crescent, 8 to 6.

Martelle worked in excellent style for the News boys in the morning game, permitting but two hits and after the second inning held the Levys from reaching second base. Noeffke was chased in the third inning in favor of Marquard.

Nelson hurled the afternoon game against La Crescent. Erratic support was largely responsible for the defeat. Rohr was taken from the mound in the second inning and replaced by Gittens who held the locals in check for the remainder of the game.

PEERLESS CHAINS DOWN GILKERSON UNION GIANTS, 5-0

Giants Shut Out for Second Time this Season; Nelsons in First Shutout

The Winona Peerless Chains defeated the Gilkerson Union Giants 5 to 0 on Sunday afternoon at Winona. This marks the second time that the Giants have been shut out this season, the Nelsons accomplishing the same feat some time ago, when they defeated the colored boys 2 to 0 at Copeland park. Kopendal, on the mound for the Chains, let the Giants down with four hits, breaking their record of 19 straight victories. In Saturday's game the Giants were victorious over the Chains, 14 to 3.

The Winona American Legion shut out Lucky Rose's Winona team 3 to 0 Sunday afternoon, Marissette, an Association pitcher from Minneapolis, pitching for the Legion, allowed only one hit. Heir was on the mound for the Winonas.

Blair won a hard fought contest from Caledonia Sunday, 2 to 1. Crosfor for Blair, and Jaeger for Caledonia, were the principals. Dumont will pitch for Blair against Arcadia on the Fourth.

Big Scale Industry Has Made America Rich

AMERICA is the richest country in the world because of its great natural resources, and because it has utilized large-scale organizations to develop them. It has done big things in a big way. Other nations have had more workmen, cheaper labor, more densely settled areas, yet America has outstripped them all. Why? Because of "Big Industry"—vast, centralized organization.

The measure of this big-scale organization is service. The big unit is constructive—far-seeing—resourceful—permanent. It can be depended upon to provide essential commodities in times of stress.

A big organization should be judged by the service it renders.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a big organization, built squarely upon service. It has grown and prospered because of the need for its service. It is doubtful if a smaller organization could give the service rendered by this Company.

Because of its size and efficiency, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) can manufacture on an economical scale. From one natural resource it produces hundreds of useful products at a minimum cost, thus enabling the Company to sell each of its long line of products at a lower price than would otherwise be possible.

Because of its thorough distribution service, resulting from its great volume of business, it is possible for the man living in the remote corners of the 10 Middle Western States served to get such petroleum products as he needs with facility almost equal to that of the man living in the city.

The forecast for 1922 is for a heavier demand for petroleum products than this nation has ever known. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has keyed its entire organization to meet this demand. Regardless of the emergencies which may arise, the Company believes that its organization will be able to meet the situation.

KATHERINE MACDONALD AT BEST IN "TRUST YOUR WIFE"

Katherine MacDonald, the personification of feminine loveliness, has been making great strides of progress with her histrionic talent. Realization of this fact in forcibly brought home by her latest starring vehicle, "Trust Your Wife," which opened an engagement to a capacity house at the Rivoli Theatre last night, and plays for the last times tonight. The vehicle is unquestionably the best that has yet been given the charming star and it provides her with a wide range of opportunity to display her art as an emotional and dramatic actress.

David Winter is Katherine MacDonald's leading man, and Charles Richman formerly of this city, has the role of the millionaire. Other members of the cast are Mary Alden and the star's sister, Miriam MacDonald.

SNOWSTORM IN FILM MADE IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Southern California is not just exactly noted for heavy snowstorms. But the little New England village depicted in several "sets" built for the filming of "The Rainmaker," will be seen to be "snowed under" when this comedy film is shown at the Rivoli Theater Tuesday and Wednesday.

Evidently Lloyd Hamilton, who is featured as the rainmaker, must have gotten his orders twisted, for heavy snow banks provide the background for much of the comedy. So realistic are the scenes, that it is impossible to tell that they are artificial. Irene Dalton is the leading lady in "The Rainmaker."

JOHN EMERSON, ANITA LOOS TREAT WORLD TO SMILE

A notable cast has been assembled for the filming of "Red Hot Romance," a John Emerson-Anita Loos production which will be the feature at the Majestic Theatre for an engagement of two days, starting today.

The leading parts are played by Basil Sidney, a famous English actor, and May Collins, one of the most popular of American ingenues.

"Red Hot Romance" is a satire on the romantic melodrama of the Richard Harding Davis-Anthony Hope type, with the dynamic hero, the helpless girl, the marines-to-the-rescue and all the rest of it. The scenes are laid in the kingdom of Bunkonia, whose capital is Santa Grafto and whose chief city is Porto Bunko.

RIVOLI TUESDAY

How'd you like to have in the same camp with you a man in whose veins runs the blood of a renegade Apache chief, who sixty or more years ago, accomplished the murder of hundreds of whites?

That's been the experience of Jack Holt and Bebe Daniels who spent several weeks in making Arizona locations scenes for "North of the Rio Grande," a Paramount picture in which they co-star and which comes to the Rivoli Tuesday and Wednesday.

Red Eagle, leader of the band of twenty-five cowpunchers used in this picture, is the grandson of Chief Red Eagle, whose band exterminated an immigrant train during the gold rush days, long ago.

James Stuart's all white Minstrel Revue is the added attraction at the Rivoli Tuesday.

STRAND TODAY

A perfect reproduction of Vesuvius in eruption is afforded by the remarkable volcano and earthquake scenes in "The Vermilion Pencil," Sessue Hayakawa's powerful melodrama now showing at the Strand Theatre. The flood of flaming lava rushes down the side of the mountains and settles over entire villages, snuffing out the lives of thousands of helpless natives. The earth rocks at the same time and sends huge structures tottering to the ground in fragments. There are other smashing thrills, including the rescue of Bessie Love from death in a raging whirlpool, in the making of which scene Sessue Hayakawa came within an inch of losing his life. Gorgeous costumes and sets add a note of lavishness to this most unusual production, the story of which is based upon the memorable novel by Homer Lea.

CASINO TODAY

The new Conway Tearle picture, "Shadows of thee Sea" which is scheduled at the Casino today, was written by Frank Dazey, son of Charles T. Dazey, famous playwright who put the family name into American theatrical tradition when he wrote the imperishable success, "In Old Kentucky."

In writing "Shadows of the Sea" for the screen young Mr. Dazey is said to have introduced a series of incidents and elements that promise to place this new Conway Tearle feature among the foremost offerings of the season. Conway Tearle, as star, is fitted with a role that affords ample opportunity for the exercise of his talents as a delineator of striking roles and with Doris Kenyon his leading lady.

MARKET IS SLUGGISH

Session Dullest of the Year; Sales Run Below 70,000 Shares

NEW YORK—The market lapsed into absolute stagnation soon after the opening Monday. Sales during the first hour fell below 70,000 shares, the low record of the year. Commission houses were deserted and public interest was altogether lacking. Some leaders of the industrial group were not all quoted during the morning. The only popular issue to show activity was Studebaker, which rose 1½ points. Early gains in Coca Cola, Iron Products, and Du Pont, were extended, the latter advancing almost twelve points. Ontario and Western as the only heavy railway issue, declining 2½ points. An opening rate of five percent for call money was soon reduced to 4¾ percent.

Early dealings on the stock exchange were light and irregular, reflecting the small attendance of members. Rails continued to ignore strike developments changes again being limited to fractional declines with New York Central as the one conspicuous exception at a one point advance. Mexican Petroleum made an initial gain of 2½ points, the greater part of which was cancelled in the next transaction. Specialties of the types represented by Coca Cola, which rose almost two points and DuPont, at a gain of 4¾ points featured the miscellaneous issues. The more acute situation in Central Europe precipitated further weakness in foreign exchanges with the German mark at the new minimum of .023.

Dullness was at low ebb in the final hour. Equipments and coppers hardened but U. S. Steel was under pressure the close was irregular. Sales 235,000 shares, the smallest for a full session this year.

HARDING ON WAY TO THE OLD TOWN FOR HOMECOMING

President Making Trip to Marion for First Time Since Entering White House

ENROUTE WITH PRESIDENT HARDING TO MARION, OHIO, UNIONTOWN, Pa.— In high hopes that by evening he would be in his home town for the first time since entering the white house, President Harding Monday started on another lap of his automobile journey to Marion.

Refreshed by a night's rest at a hotel perched on a mountain top near here, the president and Mrs. Harding were up for an early getaway. They were anxious to arrive in Marion by night, although the stiffest mileage scheduled faced them since their departure from Washington. Approximately 250 miles of the route remained to be covered. In the event the tourists are unable to complete their trip by night, it was said they would stop for the night within striking distance of their destination and complete the tour Tuesday morning, in time, however, for afternoon home-coming ceremonies in which the president and General Pershing and Charles G. Dawes, former budget bureau director, both traveling with Mr. Harding, are to participate with speakers.

Monday's route carried the president through coal fields in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio, where miners have been on strike for several months. Since leaving Washington, Mr. Harding has made no public comment on either the coal strike or railroad situation.

A wise man never laughs at his wife's old clothes or juggles T. N. T.

WHEAT PRICES LOWER

Liquidation and lack of Reports of Fresh Crop Damage Has Bearish Effect

CHICAGO, Ill.—Wheat averaged lower in price Monday during early trading absence of any adverse fresh developments in regard to black rust having a bearish effect. There was evidence also of scattered liquidation on the part of holders. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c lower to ¼c advance, July $1.17½ and $1.17¾ and September $1.17¾ and $1.18⅛ was followed by a moderate down turn all around.

Persistent buying for a leading elevator interest rallied the corn market from early weakness that was associated with heavy deliveries on July contracts. After opening unchanged to ⅜c lower, September 66½ to 66⅜c prices underwent a slight further sag and then rose to above Saturday's finish for all deliveries.

Subsequently the corn market eased a little, influenced by the decline in wheat prices. The close was unsettled ⅛c net lower to a like advance, September 65⅞c.

Oats were relatively easy opening a shade to ⅜c lower September 38⅝c and later rallying somewhat but less readily than corn.

Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

No lasting recovery ensued. Despite announcement of a liberal decrease in the United tates visible supply total, the market closed weak, ⅛c to 1⅜c net lower, with July $1.16⅝ and $1.16½ and September $1.16⅞ and $1.17.

COST OF PRISON UPKEEP CUT BY PAROLE SYSTEM

Over Half Million Earned by First Offenders Out on Parole, State Reports

VIOLATORS OF PROBATION SYSTEM COMPARATIVELY FEW

Success of Plan Firmly Established in State

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—First offenders out on probation instead of in prison earned over $500,000 for themselves and their families in Wisconsin during the past year, report Monday of the state board of control shows. At the same time the state saved hundreds of thousands of dollars which would have been required to maintain the law violators had they been sent to jail.

It is in Milwaukee county that the Wisconsin probation law has its most extensive application. There 413 prisoners were placed on good behavior during the year, while 296 were discharged as successful cases, throughout the remainder of the state 119 adults and 82 minors were put on probation, and 160 discharged.

Operation of the probation law that larceny, forgery, abandonment and non-support, compose the greatest number of offenses committed by adults, while burglary, attempted larceny and operating automobiles without the consent of the owner are the greatest number of offenses committed by minors.

Violators of their probation numbered 30 in the state generally and 53 for Milwaukee. Only a small percentage of these were returned for committment, while some of the others absconded. Those placed on probation for abandonment and non-support are reported to have contributed over $4,000 to the support of their families.

"Probationers during the past year have reduced the public cost of maintaining the penal institutions by reducing the number of commitments to them," the board of control said. "Had those placed on probation during the year been committed to institutions it would have cost the state over $100,000 to care for them.

"In addition to the saving in the expense of maintaining these persons in institutions they have been self-sustaining, made restitution for loss or damages and contributed to the support of their families which they could not have done had they been imprisoned."

The chief probation officer in commenting on the situation said that "with conditions unsettled, with the public mind in a state of dissatisfaction and particularly handicapped by the industrial situation, the department went through the most critical test of its existence during 1921.

"Yet, it is a fact," he said, "that probation is now more firmly established in this jurisdiction than ever before. The success of probation cannot be measured in money standards. Yet it is a source of the utmost gratification to think of the large sums of money saved in keeping men and women out of prison, and of the hundreds of children at the family fireside who would otherwise be objects of charity.

RIVOLI PRESENTS MINSTREL SHOW

A new offering of the ever popular minstrel variety is James H. Stuart's All White Minstrel Revue which is the attraction at the Rivoli theater.

The blackface comedians furnish plenty of clever singing and jigging and Jim Stuart and Dan Roby pass a line of chatter that is distinctly original, new and different. Stuart, Roby, Barton and Dean, as the quartet, have an embryo band stunt that is as amusing as it is good. Roby's offering of "Topics of the Day" is a snappy and clever bit of monologue.

In connection with the vaudeville, the Rivoli presents the First National attraction, "Trust Your Wife," a society drama, starring Katherine MacDonald, the "American Beauty."

Country ants that have never eaten a human find great feasts in store for them.

Birds that have never had a rock thrown at them won't be able to say the same tomorrow.
